

Recipe for a Me

Wanna Piece of Me #12

After going over the possibilities for this assignment in class and looking at a few student samples,
I'll now share my concoction with you as a model.

Marinated Harrell Wrap

1 aged slab of hard work
2 cups wonder
6 quarts blended creativity and imagination
180 lbs husband
3 bundles of children
leaves from assorted books
2 cups each smiles and impatience
2 Tbs literate language blend of exotic student spices

Pound wonder into the hard work until tenderized;
Infuse with liberal amounts of Creativity and Imagination blend;
Slice into serving sized portions

Marinate for 6 decades in spices, language, and dabs of diction
Add husband and children to sweeten the mixture.
Blend in the smiles and impatience alternately until irony develops and mixture is smooth.

This mixture makes plenty and keeps well.
It can be reheated as needed. Store in a clean, dry place until ready to use.

To make bread for wraps: Gather the staples needed --hope, knowledge, patience, faith, and gratitude-- from storage and knead them together with liquid love to make a soft crust.

Wrap around a serving sized Work-Wonder mixture Spoon liberally with a sauce of remaining love and additional exotic student spices
Warm thoroughly and garnish with leaves of assorted books.

Serve with steaming hot coffee, the dessert of the day,
and a side of sweet potato fries
