

Thinking and Acting

The wise man can pick up a grain of sand and envision a whole universe.

But the stupid man will just lie down on some seaweed and roll around until he's completely draped in it.

Then he'll stand up and go, "Hey, I'm Vine Man.

~Jack Handey

So what's the point here? Does it have to do with timing? place?
When do we do what? Think about some "vine men" you've seen and when you've been tempted to be one and how you handled it.
