

A Seven Course Offering for Executive Functioning

1. You will see three short YouTubes that can be read two ways to give two totally different messages. The first one is "Lost Generation" and the second is "This is the Truth." The third one, "Lev's Four Letter Lie," was done by a PKY student last year (2013). After you watch them write a brief reflection in your notebook about what you learned and/or how they make you feel.
2. Next you will see a presentation of Famous Failures. You could find many more of these if you Google famous failures. List some names that interest you as you watch. Then write what lesson you learn from this. Which example inspired you most? Which surprised you most?
3. You may have heard of Kid President already. This child has become a YouTube sensation. Make a note or two of whatever you want to say about this.
4. Then Dalton Sherman will make a speech about confidence. He was only a young elementary student when he spoke for an audience of thousands. You can find more about what he is doing now if you Google him.
5. Finally, one of my all time favorites. Susan Boyle from Britain's Got Talent. After you watch this, write in your notebook for 10 minutes or so...what did you learn about judging people on first impressions and what lessons you can apply to yourself when you feel judged? What are several EF qualities this woman possesses?
