

Putting It All Together

We have been having great discussions on the first two sections of The 7 Habits of Highly Successful Teens. We have looked at the first two habits, Be Proactive and Begin with the End in Mind. For habits 3 through 7, let's switch methods a bit and jigsaw these last five chapters together. Here's how it will work:

1. Keep reading the whole book, of course, but decide to focus on one particular chapter.
2. Form groups of 3 or 4 students who want the same chapter and with whom you can work well (and balanced) together. We will need five groups total.
3. Study your chosen chapter carefully, discuss it together, and decide on the important points we need to know. (Hint: look for the bulleted points and bold headings)
4. Prepare an interesting and effective presentation to teach these points to the class and share real-life examples of how the points help in your life. You may use drama, Power Point or video, music or raps, brochures, panel discussions, mock quiz shows... whatever your group thinks will best teach the chapter and whatever suits the group's skill set.
5. In addition to the presentation, please prepare a one page bulleted summary sheet on the main points represented in your group's presentation and the names and jobs of each group member.
6. I will give you at least one class block to prepare but you will probably need to spend some time together outside of class. Assign jobs carefully and evenly.

The presentations need to be ready by _____

